The image shows a close-up of a decorative ceiling. It features a large, ornate, light-colored plaster medallion in the center, which is a triangular shape with a pointed top. The medallion is filled with intricate floral and foliate carvings, including two large flowers on the sides and a central floral motif. The medallion is surrounded by a wide, multi-layered border of decorative molding. The molding consists of several layers of lines and a row of small, rounded, shell-like ornaments. The overall color is a warm, light beige or cream. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture and depth of the carvings.

The image shows a close-up of a decorative ceiling corner. The molding is made of a light-colored material, possibly plaster or wood, and features intricate carvings of leaves and scrolls. The corner is formed by two large, symmetrical V-shaped sections meeting at a central point. The overall tone is warm and elegant.
